Consolidated theaters kapolei address

Steven M wrote a review Dec 2018Pearl City, Hawaii299 contributions10 useful votes Inspect, great staff While this is definitely an older theater without reclining seats, I still really enjoyed my experience watching Aquaman here. Part of my enjoyment certainly came from the fact that consolidated seems to be a local chain, if the branding & messaging before the show is to be believed, which has served Hawaii since the 1920s. I like to know that my dollars support what I hope is a registered, local business. Our tickets were purchased either online or through an app from our Tito, so I can't talk about the ease of this process. However, it's at least nice to know that an older chain has that as an option. The lack of reclining seats was not such a big deal and certainly not distracting from the experience. Overall, he had a great time watching the movie, and the staff was great!... Date of experience: December 2018Gray a review What was your experience?
